

Family and Friends

- Barber-Starkey, J. (2000). JASON'S NEW DUGOUT CANOE. Madeira Park, BC: Harbour Publishing.
Jason learns about First Nations history and tradition of canoe making from his uncle at the request of his grandfather and father.
- Dragonwagon, C. (1990). Home Place. New York: MacMillan Publishing Company.
A family speculates on the history of a secluded, quiet place. Discusses the mysteries of time, love and family.
- Fox, M. (1984). Wilfred Gordon McDonald Partridge. London, England: Puffin Books.
A small boy visits a senior's home and helps his elderly friend find her memory.
- Hest, A. (2004). Mr. George Baker. Massachusetts: Candlewick Press.
Harry waits for the school bus with 100 year-old Mr. George Baker - discovering his friend can still dance and play the drums – as they are both going to class to learn to read.
- MacGregor, R. (2014). The HIGHEST NUMBER in the WORLD. Toronto: Tundra Books.
A young girl learns the history of hockey jersey number 9 from her Grandma.
- Polacco, P. (1992). Mrs. Katz and Tush. New York: Dell Publishing.
A life-long relationship develops between a boy, an elderly woman and a cat. Themes of Jewish heritage and black history are explored.
- Rocky Mountain School District 6. (2013). Connecting with the Elders. Canada: Rhino Print Solutions.
Local students listen to and learn from the stories of the elders.